Re: Molly Young Trujillo

To SEMSWA Board:

Our property was the access-way and staging ground for a major creek stabilization project (Piney Creek - Phase 2) for the Urban Drainage and Flood Control District (Urban Drainage) and the Southeastern Metropolitan Storm Water Authority (SEMSWA). Before the project's start, we had many concerns; e.g., how the project would affect our horses; how noisy or disruptive it might be; how our property would be altered/restored, etc. The work began in December 2010 and is now materially complete.

Molly Trujillo was "control-central" for SEMSWA. Jeff Fisher, Urban Drainage, has been the on-site project lead. Jake Pitcher, Left Hand Canyon Excavating, supervised the work both in the creek bed and in restoring much of the work site. Rick Kurth, Arrowhead Landscaping, Inc., lead in building fence prior to the start of the project, landscaping in the creek bed and is restoring our pasture.

We had the "A-Team." Every single person who has worked on this project has been a credit to their organization, has done outstanding work and has been kind and respectful to us. The work was smart and meticulous. The Team worked hard and the creek bed has taken on a park-like quality that we never anticipated. It is really beautiful.

Of great concern to us was how our property would fare. As the Team "buttoned-up" the project, they ensured that things were in at least as good repair as they found it; but truly, most things are in better shape – we never imagined this outcome.

We have been fortunate to work with Molly over the course of years. Through the rough spots, she has been professional and unfailingly respectful of our concerns – in the end, she is our friend. She has consistently represented SEMSWA with intelligence and integrity.

We thank each of the members of this remarkable Team.

Respectfully,
